SYMPOSIUM: The European Realist Tradition in the Nineteenth Century

DATES: November 15, 16, and 17, 1980 at The Cleveland Museum of Art, free

PURPOSE: To examine aspects of the development of the realism-naturalism movement as it affected painters and sculptors in France and other countries.

CONTENT: A series of presentations augmented by panel discussions focusing on:

*The social issues of realism in the mineteenth century
*Contributions of major and minor artists and art theorists

*The difficulties in defining a realist style

*How realists artists reflected nineteenth-century life in visual images

PARTICIPANTS AND TENTATIVE TOPICS:

Albert Boime, Art Historian, UCLA Academic Realism and the Salon

Petra T.D. Chu, Art Historian, Seaton Hall University

The Dutch Masters and French Realism or Drawing in the Realism Tradition Françoise Forster-Hahn, Art Historian, University of California at Riverside

Aspects of German Nineteenth-Century Realism

Robert L. Herbert, Art Historian, Yale University

Courbet & Millet

H.W. Janson, Art Historian, New York University

Realism in Sculpture: Limits and Limitations

Geneviève Lacambre, Curator, Musée du Louvre

Toward a Clearer Definition of Naturalism in French Nineteenth-Century Painting

Linda Nochlin, Art Historian, Vassar College

Realism and Naturalism Redefined

Theodore Reff, Art Historian, Columbia University

Degas & the Theme of The Laundress

Gabriel P. Weisberg, Curator of Art History and Education, The Cleveland Museum of Art

The Petits Maitres as Masters of Realism

Theodore Zeldin, Historian, Oxford University

Social Themes in Realism

RELATED EXHIBITIONS:

On view at The Cleveland Museum of Art at the time of the Symposium will be the following exhibitions:

'The Realist Tradition: French Painting and Drawing, 1830-1900

'The Watercolors and Drawings of Leon Bonvin

American Realism and the Industrial Age

SUPPORT:

The Symposium is funded in part by a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities.

FURTHER

For further information on the Symposium contact the Department of Art History and Education of The Cleveland Museum of Art.

INFORMATION: of Art